The RESIN-A collection was born from the contemporaneousness of materials.

The blend of natural mineral ingredients, high-resistance hydraulic limes, marble dusts, natural sands and water-based binding parts, has led to obtaining a covering product with extremely high characteristics such as gripping, hardness, flexibility and with a unique aesthetic softness.

By only adding soils and natural pigments, one has achieved the warm and contemporary tones, and the particular procedure of the inishing guarantees the resins of the collection the washable, water-proof and chemical resistance peculiarities, as well as the final aesthetic aspect.

The unique and authentic products part of the RESIN-A Collection are guaranteed by the craftsmanship through every single step of the production. The non-constant materiality, eventual signs, the not perfect coplanar system, shadows and not uniform inishing, made on purpose, are not to be considered "faults", but rather the certainty of the value of an artistic component. Every door of RESIN-A collection will be different from another, just like a true work of art.

RESIN-A modern, contemporary lines, absolutely elegant.

The doors open to new horizons.
